Getting Started

This guide provides an overview of Emory’s retirement plans and the retirement plan vendors who administer the plans. As you read through the provided information, take a few minutes to consider the following questions before enrolling in a retirement plan.

QUESTIONS TIPS

Do I want to participate?

When considering participation in a retirement plan, it may be helpful to review your retirement goals. When should you start saving? Are you saving enough to meet your goals? By participating in an Emory retirement plan, saving is easy. Start with a small contribution and increase it whenever your circumstances permit — like when you get a raise or when your car payments end. Pay yourself now, you’ll thank yourself later.

Retirement Counseling Sessions for all Retirement Plans

Fidelity Investments, TIAA and Vanguard offer individual retirement counseling sessions on campus throughout the year on the 403(b) Savings Plan and the 403(b) Roth Plans. To view the counseling schedule and to make an appointment, visit the following link on the benefits website: https://hr.emory.edu/eu/benefits/retirement-plan-counseling.html.
Why Saving for Retirement is Important

There are many reasons why you should consider participating in the retirement plans that Emory sponsors for its employees. The single most important reason is to prepare for your future. The sooner you begin saving, the longer your money has to grow. This is one occasion where time is on your side. History has proven that whether the investment markets are up or down at any given point in time, longer periods of investing in the stock market (i.e., mutual funds) provide a positive return to investors.

Another important reason to participate in Emory’s retirement plan is the immediate return on your contribution. The plan provides you a great deal of flexibility when selecting your investment options. The mutual fund options range from conservative to very aggressive — depending on your risk tolerance. And, the plans are designed to provide you with flexibility regarding the management of your investment fund choices — everything from a “hands free” approach with Lifecycle funds that essentially are managed for you based on age, to mutual funds that you can select independently through a Mutual Fund Brokerage Window with each vendor.

* For complete details on plan eligibility, please refer to the Summary Plan Description.

Participating in the Retirement Plan

After a full review of the plans, vendors and investment options available to you — you need to decide how much you can afford to contribute. Participation in the 403(b) Retirement Savings Plan is on a pre-tax basis, which means you pay yourself first by contributing pre-tax dollars before Uncle Sam taxes your take home pay. For example: An employee who is in a 28% tax bracket elects to contribute 4% on a pre-tax basis, his/her next paycheck would be reduced on average by 2.88% and not the full 4%. Thus the benefit of saving with pre-tax contributions. The Roth 403(b) is after-tax.

Estimate what you can contribute carefully — think about factors like your age, your salary, your monthly expenses, the lifestyle you’ll want once you retire. Keep in mind that you can increase, decrease or stop your contribution at any time. The plans are that flexible.

There are also financial resources available to assist you — you can contact your selected vendor(s) by phone or schedule a personal face-to-face consultation with the vendor(s) of your choice to aid you in determining your financial goals and how to reach them through the plan(s).

Planning can be complex when selecting from the variety of investment options available in the 403(b) plan. To help you select your plan investments we offer an organized approach that allows you to choose one option or mix and match across the strategies to create the retirement portfolio that is right for you.

Lifecycle Investments

Lifecycle investments are managed for you by providing “ready-mixed” investments. You can invest in a diversified portfolio that automatically keeps your investments aligned with your targeted retirement date.

- Funds are offered through each vendor — Fidelity, TIAA and Vanguard — in 5 year intervals (i.e., 2020, 2025, 2030, 2035, etc.)
- Funds are invested and managed based on an assumed retirement age of 65.
- Funds are geared to your chosen year of retirement starting with a higher allocation to stocks at a younger age and then reallocating gradually toward more conservative assets as you approach your selected retirement date.
- As plan sponsor, Emory has selected Lifecycle Investments as the default fund at each 403(b) retirement plan vendor if you do not actively select an investment fund when you enroll in the retirement plan.

Lifecycle investments are managed by the vendor and are monitored for appropriateness by Emory Investment Management.

Hypothetical example:

Sally, a plan participant is currently 30 years old and is planning to retire at age 60, or the year 2039. She selects the 2040 Fund as her investment.

Here is how it looks today — and 30 years from now.

Each vendor has a different name for these funds:
- Fidelity – Freedom Funds
- TIAA – Lifecycle Funds®
- Vanguard – Target Retirement Funds®
Four Ways to Invest — Picking What’s Right for You

Go online to view a list of the funds available under the Lifecycle Investments, Core Investments or Expanded Investments. To determine which funds are available to you through the Mutual Fund Brokerage Window, contact your vendor(s) of choice.

2 Core Investments
Core investments provide consolidated fund choices, creating a carefully chosen lineup across major asset classes, enabling easier investment selection decisions. You can select and combine Core investments to create a well-diversified retirement portfolio.

Core investments are selected to be included in the plan lineup and monitored for appropriateness by Emory Investment Management in accordance with the plan’s objectives. The Core investments are made up of the following asset classes:

- Money Market
- Fixed Income (Bond)
- US Equities (Domestic)
- Non-US Equities (International)

The core lineup of investments are available through each plan vendor — Fidelity, TIAA and Vanguard.

3 Expanded Investments
Expanded investments provide a greater choice across the major asset classes even more than the Core investments. You can select from funds in the Expanded investments to create a diversified portfolio that meets your individual retirement goals.

Expanded investments provide funds which are selected to be included in the plan lineup and monitored for appropriateness by Emory Investment Management in accordance with the plan’s objectives. To learn more about Expanded investments, contact the vendor(s) of your choice.

4 The Mutual Fund Brokerage Window
The Mutual Fund Brokerage Window provides you with the investment choices and flexibility of a brokerage account, but with the advantage of investing through your retirement plan. This window allows you to access the world of mutual funds beyond those in the Core and Expanded options. The window enables you to create a customized retirement portfolio to match your personal situation, including your goals, time frame and risk tolerance by selecting your own mutual funds for investment. It also allows you to monitor your portfolio and adjust it as your needs change.

The funds available through the Mutual Fund Brokerage Window are not selected or monitored by Emory in any way — investments are made at your own risk.

Enrollment procedures and time frames differ with each vendor. Contact your vendor(s) of choice to discuss which funds are available to you through the window as well as for information on fees, minimum transaction requirements and to request an enrollment packet.

Vendor Information — Vanguard

Vanguard is a company known for its integrity, low costs and investment track record.

About Vanguard

Vanguard is one of the world’s largest global investment management companies, serving individual investors, institutions, employer-sponsored retirement savings plans and financial professionals.

Amid all the “noise” in the marketplace about what you should and shouldn’t do to invest successfully, Vanguard believes the key is to pay attention to a few things that really matter: low costs, diversification and a long-term perspective. Vanguard helps you stay focused on these essentials — and that can make a difference in reaching your financial goals.

Unique Company Structure

To ensure that the interests of investors always come first, Vanguard is structured as a “mutual” mutual fund company — the only company in the industry structured this way. Instead of being publicly traded or owned by a small group of individuals, Vanguard is owned by the Vanguard® family of mutual funds. The Vanguard funds, in turn, are owned by their shareholders — or client-owners. This unique mutual structure aligns the interests of Vanguard with those of its clients, and provides benefits to investors worldwide.

Easy Account Management

You can manage your account and get investment help anytime:

- Online at vanguard.com/retirementplans. Log on to check account balances, conduct transactions, research funds, use financial planning tools and more.
- By phone at 800-523-1188. Call Vanguard’s 24-hour interactive VOICE® Network for transactions, detailed fund information and more.
- With personal assistance. Vanguard Participant Services associates are available to assist you at 800-523-1188 Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., ET.

Low Costs

Vanguard has long been known as a low-cost provider. Their average fund expenses are among the lowest you’ll find anywhere. In 2016, Vanguard’s asset-weighted average expense ratio was 0.12%. The 2016 Morningstar industry asset-weighted average expense ratio, excluding Vanguard, was 0.62%.

A cost savings of $5.00 per $1,000 invested may not sound like much, but over 30 years it would grow to $734.80 assuming a 6% average annual return before expenses.

Example

If you invest $1,000 in a fund with a 0.62% expense ratio (the industry asset-weighted average), you’ll pay $6.20 a year in fund expenses. However, if you invest the same amount in a Vanguard fund with a 0.12% expense ratio (the Vanguard fund average), you’ll pay just $1.20 a year.

Assumptions: 30-year returns based on a one-time investment of $1,000, a 6% average return before expenses, an average fund expense ratio of 0.62%, and a Vanguard asset-weighted average expense ratio of 0.12%. This hypothetical illustration does not represent any particular investment, and the rate is not guaranteed.

Online Information

Vanguard’s website provides 24-hour secure online access to your account information, including daily balance and fund performance updates. You’ll have access to a wealth of information to help you with your retirement and financial planning. Online tools, calculators and surveys tailored to your stage in retirement planning can help you determine how much to save, where to invest, how to plan for your retirement and more.
Comprehensive, Personalized Account Statements

Vanguard mails its statements no later than 20 business days after the end of each quarter. Each statement is posted at vanguard.com/retirementplans; these remain online for 2½ years and can be printed. Vanguard statements contain four sections:

Your Account Summary featuring Your Retirement Income Outlook™ — A snapshot view of your Plan specifics, including a chart of your account progress.

Your Investments — An overview of your individual asset mix, personal rate of return and investment activity.

News From Your Employer — Updates from your employer with key messages about the plan.

Your Fund Performance — An in-depth look at how each fund in your portfolio is doing compared with industry benchmarks.

Fund Performance

When a Vanguard fund performs well in a given year, you won’t hear about it in advertisements. Because they encourage a buy-and-hold investment philosophy, Vanguard focuses on how a fund performs over longer periods — five or ten years, for example.

Over the ten-year period ended September 30, 2017, 94% of Vanguard funds outperformed the average return of their peer group of mutual funds. For the ten-year period ended September 30, 2017, these percentages of Vanguard funds outperformed their Lipper averages, which are based on a series of indexes that track the financial performance of different types of mutual funds:

- 100% of money market funds (9 of 9)
- 100% of balanced funds (22 of 22)
- 95% of bond funds (55 of 58)
- 93% of stock funds (128 of 137)

Results will vary for other time periods. Only funds with a minimum ten-year history were included in the comparisons. (Source: Lipper, a Thomson Reuters Company.)

Note that the competitive performance data shown represent past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results, and that all investing is subject to risk, including the possible loss of the money you invest. For the most recent fund performance, visit vanguard.com/performance.

Simple Investment Changes

Whenever you want to change how your money is invested, you can move your money to new funds, rebalance your account or redirect your contributions to new funds. It takes only a couple of minutes either online or by calling Vanguard. Transactions are generally cost-free.*

Transfers

If you ever wish to transfer funds from another vendor to Vanguard, you can simply contact Vanguard to request the appropriate form. Once that form has been completed and returned to Vanguard, Vanguard will transfer your assets from the other provider. While it largely depends upon the vendor, most asset transfers are completed within three to four weeks.

Prospectus

For more information about any fund, including investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses, call Vanguard at 800-523-1188 to obtain a prospectus or, if available, a summary prospectus. The prospectus contains this and other important information about the fund. Read and consider the prospectus information carefully before you invest. You can also download Vanguard fund prospectuses at vanguard.com/retirementplans.

* Some Vanguard funds are subject to a frequent trading policy, which restricts moving money back and forth between funds within a given number of days. Some core funds are subject to a specified redemption fee for the sale of shares held for less than a given number of days. For more details about fund restrictions, visit vanguard.com/retirementplans or call a Vanguard Participant Services associate at 800-523-1188 Monday through Friday from 8:30 am to 9:00 pm, ET.

Accessing Your Funds

There are several options available to you in the event that you need a distribution from your 403(b) retirement plan — during employment and when your employment with Emory and all Affiliates has ended.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Option</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Plan Loan</td>
<td>The Plan Loan option enables you to loan yourself funds from your retirement plan to cover certain medical, educational or personal purchase items (i.e., purchase of a home). Funds for a loan are available from your employee contributions. Plan loans are repayable through direct deposit repayment (ACH) or direct debit of your personal checking or savings account over the timeframe of the loan. Loans do not require you to cease participating in the plan during the term of the loan. In addition, there are no taxes or penalties assessed to you for accessing money in this manner; however, there is a fee charged to you by the vendor(s) to administer the loan. Contact Fidelity and TIAA to request a loan.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Hardship Withdrawal</td>
<td>The Hardship Withdrawal option enables you to withdraw funds from your basic or supplemental contributions to cover certain medical, educational, home purchase or repair expenses. Hardship withdrawals do not require repayment but are subject to IRS penalties for early withdrawal and are taxable to you. A hardship withdrawal does require that you cease participation in the plan for 6 months. Hardship requests always require supporting documentation regarding the expense at the time the hardship request is submitted. Contact your selected vendor(s) to request a hardship distribution. Withdrawals can be made on employee contributions. All loans and loan amounts must be taken before a hardship withdrawal.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>In-Service Withdrawal</td>
<td>The In-Service Withdrawal option, also called a “pre-retirement cash withdrawal,” is available to those employees who have reached 59 1/2 years of age. This is available from employee contributions. Withdrawal requests do not have to meet certain reason requirements, they are not subject to IRS penalties for early withdrawal and they do not require you to cease participation in the plan. Withdrawals are taxable to you at the time they are received.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Post Employment Distribution</td>
<td>When your employment with Emory University (and all Affiliates) ends, you may choose when you want to begin receiving benefit payments from your retirement plan. How you receive your benefit payments can vary as there are multiple benefit payment methods to choose from. Note that additional Plan rules apply. To learn more about the Plan rules or benefit payment methods, contact your retirement plan vendor(s) or review the Retirement 403(b) Summary Plan Description.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Please contact your retirement plan vendor(s) to learn more about the options available to you to access your retirement funds while still employed at Emory.
As a participant in an Emory sponsored retirement plan, you choose how your voluntary contributions are to be invested among the available funds as it is Emory’s objective to let each participant make investment decisions with respect to your own risk tolerance and retirement objectives.*

Emory Investment Management is then responsible for monitoring the investment options available under the Plan (other than the mutual funds in the Mutual Fund Brokerage Window) to determine whether they remain within the acceptable range of investment alternatives available under the Plan.

After all variables are reviewed, Emory Investment Management determines if an investment is appropriate to be in the plan lineup.

Remember, all investments in the retirement plan are made at your own risk. Contact your selected retirement plan vendor(s) or personal financial advisor to assist you with your retirement planning.

The information provided in this guide is meant to provide basic retirement plan information.

For additional details and specific information, please contact the retirement plan vendor(s).

Risk associated with the investment options can vary significantly within each particular investment category, and the relative risk of categories may change under certain economic conditions. For a more complete discussion of risk associated with the investment options, please read the prospectus before making your investment decisions.

Emory reserves the right to modify or withdraw the investment options available through the plan, at any time.

NOTE:
The contents contained in this guide only provide a summary of retirement options. Please refer to the Summary Plan Description for further information. The Plan Document will govern all administration of the plan.

* Based on a special section in ERISA, Section 404(c) the U.S. Department of Labor affirmatively relieves the Employer of any fiduciary responsibility and liability under ERISA for investment decisions made by participants if the employee is notified that the Employer is taking advantage of the regulation.

Thus, we want to notify each participant that Emory intends that the Plan be a plan described in ERISA Section 404(c) and Title 29 of the Code of Federal Regulations §2550.404c-1, and that the fiduciaries of the Plan be relieved of liability for any losses which are the direct and necessary result of investment instructions given by participants and beneficiaries.
For additional information regarding Emory’s retirement plans, please contact Emory’s Benefits and Work Life Department. To learn more about a vendor, the services they offer or the funds available for investments, please contact the vendor(s) of your choice.

Glossary of Terms

Annuity — A series of monthly income payments that continue as long as you live.

Basic Contribution — A voluntary employee contribution which does not exceed 2% of Regular Salary.

Beneficiary — Person, persons or trust designated to receive the plan benefits of a participant in the event of the participant’s death.

Compound Interest — The concept of adding accumulated interest back to the principal, so that interest is earned on interest from that moment on. A loan, for example, may have its interest compounded every month: in this case, a loan with $100 principal and 1% interest per month would have a balance of $101 at the end of the first month.

Defined Contribution Plan — A retirement plan that accrues value based on individual employee contributions and investment choices. The employee may choose from an annuity or other types of payment at distribution. There is no lifetime guarantee. Benefits under this type of plan are not guaranteed by the employer.

Eligible Employees — Employees who meet the requirements for participation in an employer sponsored plan.

Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) of 1974 — A federal law that affects Health & Welfare, Pension and Profit Sharing Plans. Among other provisions, this law specifies a Summary Plan Description (SPD) must be distributed to participants within 120 days after adoption of the plan and 90 days after an employee becomes a participant. The SPD is a summary of plan provisions written to be understood by the average participant.

Hardship Withdrawal — If you have no other option to access money for certain large expenses, you may be able to withdraw money from your retirement plan. Restrictions determined by plan and IRS regulations. Hardship withdrawals will be subject to taxes and applicable penalties.

Plan Administrator — The individual, group or corporation named in the plan document as responsible for day to day operations.

QDRO (Qualified Domestic Relations Order) — A judgment, decree or order that creates or recognizes an alternate payee's (such as former spouse, child, etc.) right to receive all or a portion of a participant’s retirement plan benefits.

Roth 403(b) — An after-tax retirement benefit that allows you to pay taxes now on the money you set aside instead of paying taxes at the time of withdrawal. The plans allow you to elect a combination of both pre-tax and Roth after-tax deferrals, but the combination of traditional pre-tax and Roth after tax deferrals in both the Emory University plans cannot exceed IRS limits.

Summary Plan Description (SPD) — A legally required summary of the plan available to all employees.

Supplemental Contribution — A voluntary employee contribution which exceeds 2% of Regular Salary.

403(b) — Under section 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, employees of certain non-profit organizations can set aside money for retirement on a pre-tax basis through a plan sponsored by their employer. To encourage saving for retirement through these plans, the federal government created special tax advantages for 403(b) contributions.
