

Yasmin Ali

Pre-Award Manager, ABOSS RAS, School of Medicine

What year did you join Emory?

I actually joined Emory as a work study student in 1993 but officially I have been on staff since 1995 when I graduated.

Tell us a little about the work you've done at Emory throughout your career.

I started in the Department of Microbiology and Immunology as a work study student and took my first position there as a secretary. I then worked in the School of Nursing for many years, and have been back in the School of Medicine since 2010.

What are some of your favorite memories of your time at Emory?

All the interesting people I have met and have worked with and the variety of jobs I have done from fixing copiers to routing grants in paper format. I also enjoyed the Christmas skits the graduate students and post docs in the Microbiology & Immunology labs would put on at the Holiday parties. They were a lot of fun and I got to participate in a few. There are so many good memories.

What are some of the most significant changes you have witnessed over the course of your career?

Just the changes on campus. Things have definitely changed.

Is there anything you miss from "back in the day"?

I miss seeing some of the faculty I worked with who have either retired or passed.

What do you hope for the future of Emory?

Success!

Yasmin in the mid-90's (above) and today (below).
